

"Girls are weighed down by restrictions, boys with demands — two equally harmful disciplines"

This quoted line reflects the typical thinking, and expression of our society as well as of the contemporary world. Our society is a patriarchal society even in the 21st century it retains its patriarchy. It is not new, this conviction always firms its path that girls are soft, emotional, sensitive and vulnerable, for that reason, they are given less priority to make them adamant and firm but more priority to protect them by confining ~~to~~ into ~~the~~ inner world with so many restrictions, from the outer world. In contrast, our male dominated society always claims that boys must be strong, masculine, firm, calculative ~~and~~ and from mind not to heart. It does not only show the restrictions of the girls and the supreme powers of the boys, it also justifies the struggles of one's to break it and other one's to stand on it.

From birth both are given choices, choices of colours, choices of education, sports, profession, but those are selective. If she is a girl she must choose pink it's soft, play with dolls, restriction not to Choose science cause maths can not be handled, by profession nurse, teachers, lecturers should be perfect, don't need to be leader it is beyond your control.

But today, some women prove it to be wrong, various players who won national as well as international prizes in games they are almost women. Margte Chugeneijang Mary Kom known as Mary Kom was the only Indian female boxer to have qualified for the 2012 Summer Olympics, and won a bronze medal, ~~and~~ even she became the first Indian female boxer to win a gold medal in the Asian Games in 2014. There are many more such respected as Deepika Kumari, Saina Nehwal, PV Sindhu.

Kamala Das marks a word for women 'to fit in', it is the word that almost every woman is told. Society is ready to make them to fit in the structure what is made for women. Women should not be hanging around, ~~and~~ women should cover themselves, women should be a cook, an embroiderer, ~~most~~ obviously a perfect wife and a perfect mother.

Kamala Das also tricks by saying "I don't know politics but I know the names of those in power" she reveals on this line represents that women are aware of politics, know the every specific matters but they are not allowed in politics. This world does not take them as a leader.

But, though women also break that rule, not to today but it started since independent or before that, Indira Gandhi 3rd prime Minister of our country who governed our country, Pratibha Devi Patil, 12th president of India even our current President Draupadi Murmu who is mulling.

Even in conjugal life, women have to suffer more, they are learnt how to make others happy, how to serve. In many cases women are being neglected by their husbands, tortured by their husband's family. In muslim tradition women were given 'triple talaq' which ~~make~~ leaves them into disarray.

Though it is a patriarch society, but boy's life is not that much easy. Since born boys are aware of the fundamental fact, that they have to be ready to lead the family, they have to get good education, have to be good in sports, have to pursue a good ^{careers} ~~careers~~ and have to be the strong shields of their Old Parents.

Like girls, boys are also given selective choices plays should be cricket, football which make them powerful show their strength, Profession must be great Engineer, Police, Lawyer should be a leader not politically always but in ordinary life that must figure out ~~the~~ Boys vigili their vigour.

Mens are expected more and these expectations lead them to ~~a~~ vain. According to a data presented in Rajya Sabha by the Ministry of Education, Thirty-three students have died by suicide across the Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT) and most of the students were male.

As the report the reasons were the family pressure, demand of good result and an auspicious career and life.

Though government has told to take strict laws to the college representatives, and family to understand all the situation and not to pressurize more.

Unemployment becomes the fear-fact of the males. Men with good education, skilled, having knowledge, and personality still are not being able to get jobs. If they are stronger still most of the men become depressed more.

A report has expressed that about 33 million men would have been looking for work.

Men must be responsible if he is eldest in the house means he must support other youngest, they should be best brothers who needs to protect his sisters and at the proper time they have to take the responsibility of her marriage. All men are not happy in their conjugal life, they must be a good husband who can fulfill all wishes and be a father who can listen all demands their children. All these expectations stop them to think what they expect in their life as individuals. Who says, boys are not oppressed infact they are more oppressed and depressed by the same society and its expectations.

It is true that our country and the world both develop more, changes are visible, people are perceiving different thinking and we are on the way to make ~~a different world~~ a utopian world a nation which is more developed and respected. Our government also takes futuristic decisions to give equal freedom to both gender, creates different sectors to create more employment, Even there are many programmes which provide employment, PMRY (Pradhan Mantri Rozgar Yojana) that promises to give help educated unemployed people in the rural or urban areas by giving financial support from bank to start new small industries. Men are being encouraged to start their own business even more jobs are offered.

Girls also being able to show their vigor, they can protest for themselves, they are given more rights. Even in the Shayara Bano case (2017), the Supreme Court in a landmark 3-2 verdict, had struck down instant triple talaq. Parliament passed the Bill on 30 July 2019 and makes the practice of instant triple talaq among Muslims a criminal offence. New India has been created, people are now more understanding society knows the value of each individual. It reveals and constructs a society, a nation and a world where "girls are with less restrictions flying ~~at~~ high; Boys are with supportive hand demand dies."
